

TROPICAL LIFE – MAHATMA HOUSE

Edition January – April 2012

MAHATMA HOUSE

Located less than 30 minutes from the jetsetters playground of Seminyak in the south west of Bali and in the beautiful and very traditional Balinese village of Seseh, Mahatma House is set in the peaceful but strategic area of Seseh. Echo beach is only 100 meters away and it is less than 10 kilometres to Tanah Lot Temple and the Nirwana Golf Course.

Mahatma House is owned by a Spanish model and a fashion designer and their sense of style and sophistication shines throughout the villa, from the fabulous black interiors to the incredible collection of Asian antiquities.

On entering Mahatma House, you are presented with an immaculate view of the 18m X 6.4m private pool surrounded by lush green tropical gardens cooled by fresh sea breezes from nearby Seseh beach. The property sits in 2,600 square meters of land and offers five bedrooms, each one featuring the villa's signature sleek black decors furnished with king-size beds and equipped with ensuite bathrooms, private bedroom terraces and balconies.

Other facilities include an open-sided dining area with a seating capacity of ten adjacent to a super stylish kitchen overlooking the garden pool and bale, an outdoor living area with a comfortable bale enveloped by the garden's lush greenery and shaded by trees (an ideal place to enjoy a cocktail or two before the sun goes down) and an entertainment room. To make your stay even more enjoyable, a fully trained therapist from a reputable local spa is available on request to pamper you with deluxe treatments.

The impeccably trained staff, including an experienced villa manager and a private chef trained in one of the best fine dining restaurants on the island, ensure that every moment of your stay is looked after and that anything you desire is prepared for you.

Only a few meters from the villa lies Seseh beach where you can stroll along the shore, watch the local fisherman haul in their daily catch, or wander to the local temple where enchanting ceremonies are performed daily against the backdrop of the ocean.

A fine property in a great location supported by high quality services Mahatma House is a perfect place for a luxurious holiday in an ambience of peace and harmony.
